The Apprentice School Graduates 170 Apprentices

On Saturday, Feb. 20, HII held commencement exercises to graduate 170 apprentices from Newport News Shipbuilding's Apprentice School. The exercises were held at the Liberty Baptist Church Worship Center in Hampton in celebration of the graduating class of 2015.

Sen. Tim Kaine, D-Va., delivered the keynote address. Discussing his work as founder and co-chair of the Career and Technical Education (CTE) Caucus, Kaine explained that the caucus uses The Apprentice School as "the national model that others should emulate."

He argued that The Apprentice School holds national significance for American manufacturing, CTE and national security. "The ships and subs that you build not only defend the United States, but they help us open commerce to the world," he said. "They respond in times of humanitarian disaster; they're a show of order and peace and presence and diplomacy wherever they go. And that is what you do every day when you walk through the gate."

NNS President Matt Mulherin encouraged the graduates to take risks at the company. "I want you to have courage," he said. "I want you to think outside the box, and I want you to challenge..."

...the way we've always done things at the shipyard. We need and want your diverse ideas and perspectives to set the course for the next 130 years."

Of the 170 graduates, 17 are military veterans or reservists. Seventy-six completed an optional, advanced program (advanced shipyard operations, cost estimator, modeling and simulation program analyst, and nuclear test technician or production planner). Forty-seven apprentices earned "honors," 11 earned "high honors," and five earned "highest honors" under the school's Honors Program, which combines academic and craft grades to determine overall performance. Athletic awards were presented to 21 graduates, and 14 achieved a perfect 4.0 grade point average in their required courses.

The recipient of the Homer L. Ferguson Award was Eric Bevis. The award is granted to the graduate with the highest grade point average in combined required academics and crafts. Bevis served in the U.S. Navy for 11 years before beginning his career as an electrician at NNS.

Did You Know that NNS Has a Facilities Service Desk?

Employees can contact the Facilities Service Desk at 688-9888, 24-hours a day, seven days a week for any failure of equipment or any facility problem. The desk fields more than 1,500 calls and 250 emails per month. When a failure or problem is called in, the desk operator performs a triage on the situation. They will ask questions regarding the asset, location, problem, and caller's department. The situations are then logged into SAP and coded for priority so they can be properly addressed. See below for guidelines on when to call the desk.

- Heating/cooling
- Roof leaks
- Crane breakdowns
- Lighting issues
- Flat tires
- Potholes
- Power outages
- Plumbing issues
- Safety related issues

In addition, there is an online form for non-urgent issues on the O45 Yardnet website.

When should you not call the Facilities Service Desk? Computer issues, printer or fax problems, security concerns or emergencies (fire, medical, etc.)

Other tips include: When you see an issue, don't assume somebody else has phoned it in; if you've called in a trouble ticket, tape the ticket number to the problem if at all possible; if a ticket has been called in and worked, and the problem has not been resolved, call it in again.

NNS Dedicates its 13th Habitat for Humanity House

Ray Bagley, NNS vice president of Trades Operations, spoke on behalf of the shipyard and presented the house keys and a plaque to the Coleman family.

"This is a wonderful partnership we have with Habitat for Humanity," Bagley said. "For 130 years, our shipbuilders have built the finest ships in the world. But also our shipbuilders know what goes into building a home for LaShand and her family. We are happy to be a part of this new chapter."

LaShand said she is proud to call the house her own. "As a single mother of two, my heart's desire has always been to own my home and have a nice place for my children to live," she said.

2016 marks the first year that shipyard volunteers will complete two houses for Habitat for Humanity. Newport News' 14th house will be complete this summer.
