MASTER SHIPBUILDER

27th Annual Recognition Ceremony

April 21, 2016

NNS Hosts 27th Annual Master Shipbuilders Dinner

Newport News Shipbuilding held the 27th annual Master Shipbuilders Dinner at the Hampton Roads Convention Center in Hampton on April 21. During the evening event, 832 men and women who have been employed by Newport News Shipbuilding for 40 or more years with a combined total of 35,672 years of service were honored. One hundred and seventy three of those employees were recognized as new Master Shipbuilders.

Bill Bell, vice president of Human Resources and Administration, welcomed Master Shipbuilders and their guest to the ceremony, and NNS President Matt Mulherin served as the keynote speaker. "Tonight, we aren't just celebrating longevity in your careers," he said. "We are also celebrating your ability to adapt, to change and to grow. In 40 plus years, you have seen more change – in our shipyard and indeed the world – than any other group of shipbuilders. I am asking you to think about this as you work with our younger generation of employees. Because in 40 years from now, they'll be the ones sitting here. They are our future, and with your guidance, your inspiration, and your open minds to their new ways of thinking, they will continue the legacy you have created, and lead Newport News Shipbuilding into another century of greatness."

"Top Gun" Welders Honored for Outstanding Achievements

Thirty-seven welders from the Pipe Shop and Machine Shop were recognized for achieving "Top Gun" status for outstanding quality on welds requiring Radiographic Testing (RT) inspection. The welders were honored during a luncheon on April 22.

Component Fabrication and Assembly (CFA) Director Aylin Robertson gave words of encouragement to the welders. "What I see across this room are leaders for our future generation of welders," she said. "We all have a great expectation to bring them up under our wings and engage them through communication and teamwork... they are our future."

Of the 37 "Top Gun" welders, six were new inductees and two received plaques for being recognized as "Top Guns" for five consecutive years. Together, these craftsmen welded a total of 2,566 RT joints in 2015 with a 98.8 percent first-time quality rate.

"The Top Gun recognition luncheon is a great opportunity for the CFA program to recognize its top welders," said Gary Fuller, X18 trades director. "These craftsmen and craftswomen are true artisans of the craft."

NNS Continues to Prepare for Personal Camera-Enabled Devices to Be Allowed on Company Property

Newport News Shipbuilding’s Security and Emergency Management and Facilities teams continue to work together to post signage throughout the shipyard in preparation for personal camera-enabled devices to be allowed on company property starting May 2.

Though the signs, which identify “Camera-Prohibited” Zones and various reminders about not taking photo or video are on display, NNS’ current policy of strictly prohibiting personal camera-enabled devices has not changed.

When the policy changes, all employees will be notified. Until then, employees are encouraged to view frequently asked questions (FAQs) about the policy on Yardnet. Additional information about the policy change will be communicated to employees prior to May 2.

Fifth Annual Egg Drop Engineering Competition Hosted by NNS

On April 21, Career Pathways partnered with Newport News Public Schools to host the 5th annual Egg Drop Competition. Approximately 70 middle and high school students representing local schools created capsules to hold their eggs. The teams were judged on the integrity of the egg following the drop and on their team presentations.

“It’s been an amazing year and I’d like to thank all of the volunteers and judges that have supported us,” said Career Pathways volunteer Will McGlone, who led the local and final competitions. “This program continues to make a footprint in our local schools by introducing students to our company and encouraging them to want to work here one day.”

Master Shipbuilders Dinner

Following remarks, Mulherin and Bell presented Maint/Machinist Specialist Ronald Sams (O43) with a Master Shipbuilder jacket. Each of the 173 new Master Shipbuilders will be given a jacket in the coming weeks.

Samuel Massenburg (X87) was one of the new Master Shipbuilder inductees, and he provided the invocation. "The event was spectacular and it truly made me feel proud to be a shipbuilder," said Massenburg. "I can still remember my first day like it was yesterday. I came to the shipyard looking for a temporary summer job to pay for school, but that plan changed my first day on the job when my supervisor took me down a long wooden ladder into the boat and I saw the most fascinating things in my life and right then I decided that my calling was to be here as Shipbuilder."
