U.S. Senators Tim Kaine and Roger Wicker Visit NNS

Last week, Huntington Ingalls Industries hosted U.S. Senators Tim Kaine, D-Va., and Roger Wicker, R-Miss., for a tour of Newport News Shipbuilding.

The senators met with shipbuilders and discussed the shipyard's increased efficiencies and construction progress on Gerald R. Ford (CVN 78) and John F. Kennedy (CVN 79). They also received progress updates on the Virginia-class submarine program, the refueling and complex overhaul (RCOH) of the aircraft carrier USS Abraham Lincoln (CVN 72), and the inactivation of USS Enterprise (CVN 65).

"America's Armed Forces require the best technology and tools available to complete their missions," said Wicker, whose state is home to Newport News' sister shipyard, Ingalls Shipbuilding. "Huntington Ingalls Industries produces the world's most sophisticated ships, enabling our troops to remain the most well-equipped military power on Earth."

Wicker has represented Mississippi in the Senate since 2007. He is a senior member of the Armed Services Committee and chairs the Subcommittee on Seapower.

Kaine was elected to the Senate in 2012 and is a member of the Armed Services Committee. The former Virginia governor has been a strong advocate for Newport News Shipbuilding. Last year he worked to secure funding for the refueling and overhaul of...

VCS Achieves Superior Safety Results

Over the past year, the Virginia-class Submarine (VCS) Program has reduced accidents by 40 percent. The VCS leadership team gives a lot of the credit for the improvement to its Environmental, Health, and Safety (EH&S) Task Team, led by craftsmen across all trades.

One of the team's activities is a monthly "Module of Excellence" banner presented to the area that has demonstrated outstanding safety. Members of the safety task team survey every module under construction to determine a winner and to provide feedback to others for improvement. They determine a score based on each module's staging, line management, safety boards, housekeeping, and accidents. The most recent recipient was the sail team in the Covered Module Assembly Facility (CMAF).

CMAF Safety Task Team Leader Eric Duvall (X31) said, "The Safety Task Team and upper management have been coming up with innovative ideas to make a safer work environment. Positive change can happen, and winning the Module of Excellence banner shows we are moving in the right direction."

FREE Tickets to the Peninsula Pilots Game on Aug. 1

Saturday, Aug. 1 is Shipbuilder Appreciation Night at War Memorial Stadium when the Peninsula Pilots host Wilson Tobs in a double-header at 6 p.m. The Communications Division still has FREE tickets available on a first-come, first-served basis. Tickets are good for both games.

NNS is also looking for a shipbuilder to throw the first pitch during the game on Aug. 1.

Employees who are interested in throwing the first pitch or would like tickets should contact Casey Fletcher (O29) at 688-2512. Group tickets cannot be provided for non-shipyard groups.

Interested in Becoming a Heart Walk Team Lead?

Newport News Shipbuilding is looking for team leads for both the Southside (Oct. 10) and Peninsula (Oct. 17) American Heart Walk events.

Employees interested in leading a team should visit www.hamptonroadsheartwalk.org from a home computer. For questions or for additional information about becoming a team lead, contact Amy McDonald (O29) at 688-6489 or via email.

X36 Safety Lead Team Holds Monthly Meeting

The Safety Lead Team for X36 Waterfront Support Services recently met to review trade processes and to identify areas for improvement within the department.

“In addition to focusing on specific processes and jobs and recommending improvements, the team is also responsible for engaging and educating X36 shipbuilders about safety,” said Safety Team Leader Jason Batcha. “The team also works very closely with the X36 Ergonomic Team to help identify specific jobs within the department that could be improved with the assistance of an ergonomic evaluation to perform trend analysis on specific processes to reduce potential risk in the future.”

To achieve this goal, the main team is organized into four smaller teams, each focusing on a specific area.

Congratulations to Ethics On-the-Spot Award Winners

Listed below are the most recent winners of the On-the-Spot Ethics Recognition Program Award. Congratulations to the following shipbuilders:

Darryl Barnes, Jr. (X33), Michael Lindsey (O53), Janice Mallory (O24), Kevin Butler (E85), Jeff Warren (E86), Juanita Jenkins (X33) and Nancy King (X33).

NNS License Plate Applicants

Last year, the Communications Division collected applications for the Newport News Shipbuilding license plates coming out this November. If any of the following have occurred since filing your application, contact Jeremy Bustin (O29) at 380-4384.

- Vehicle sold
- Expired vehicle registration
- Delinquent personal property taxes
- Vehicle emissions inspection required
- Vehicle is registered with truck plates (gross weight: more than 7,500 lbs.)
- Insurance issues
- Incomplete application

Note: While new applications may not be submitted at this time, changes to existing applications are allowed.

NEW! Check Out the Frontline FAST Website

Check out The Apprentice School's new Frontline FAST Yardnet website. On the site, visitors will find information about Apprentice School programs, various resources, co-horts and an opportunity to participate in a “Moodle Activity Package.” Moodle is an online, interactive discussion packaged to promote analysis, consideration and application of key management and leadership concepts and applicable skills and behaviors learned through the FQS coaching process. Contact Frontline FAST Coordinator Jason Kinney (O22) for questions regarding the program.

Registration for Fall 2015 Night School is Currently Underway

Fall 2015 Night School sessions are scheduled to begin the week of Sept. 14 - Nov. 21. Deadline for applications is July 31. Visit the Night School Yardnet website to view a copy of the schedule of classes or for additional information. For questions, contact Shirley Smith-King (O22) at 688-8606.

Foreman Karon Bazemore is the lead for the “mid yard” inspection team. “It’s very important that we engage our workforce. Their input is extremely important because they are the ones on the deckplate utilizing these processes, so they are the ones who can recommend the best areas and opportunities for improvement. Here at NNS, safety is our first priority and together, we can make this the safest shipyard around.”

A Cleanliness Perception

By: Tim Ketten, Propulsion Machinery, SUPSHIPNN

A loss of piping system cleanliness onboard U.S. Navy ships can severely disrupt delivery to the Fleet or harm our Sailors. Since the summer of 2013, Newport News Shipbuilding implemented numerous process improvements to minimize the potential for a loss of piping system cleanliness. Some of these process improvements include: a pipefitter cleanliness qualification program, a foreign material exclusion device closure accountability program, an audit/assessment and surveillance program, and statistical methods that monitor the health of the piping system cleanliness program. Supervisor of Shipbuilding, Newport News (SUPSHIPNN) is convinced these efforts prevent damage to sensitive systems and are less expensive than costs incurred during cleanliness recovery actions and delays to schedule. NNS has invested a significant amount of time and money establishing these programs, and SUPSHIPNN acknowledges these positive efforts to improve quality. Based on my observations of mechanics at worksites, reviewing surveillance data, and the reduced number of deficiencies found during audits and system testing, NNS' attention to cleanliness has improved.

Thank you to all NNS pipefitters and mechanics for your efforts to achieve these improvements; however, continued vigilance is necessary to maintain piping system cleanliness. Continue to work with pride, follow your procedures, and know the cleanliness acceptance criteria for the particular system you're working. The country relies on your diligence to build clean systems and to return these vital assets to the U.S. Navy within budget and ready to accomplish their mission.

Congratulations to this year's Build Clean crossword puzzle contest winners: Christine Miller (X42), William Styron (X31), Richard Martin (O39) and Jesse Johnson (X88). Turn to p. 4 to view the answers from the contest.

...the USS George Washington (CVN 73).

"I have the benefit of visiting the shipyard on a fairly regular basis, so I can appreciate the tremendous progress being made on all of the ships across the shipyard, but especially Gerald R. Ford," Kaine said. "Senator Wicker shares my interest in shipbuilding, so I was happy to join him to meet with our shipbuilders and see first-hand all of the cost-reduction efforts being made so that we can continue making smart investments in our national security."

NNS' Software Center of Excellence Appraised at Maturity Level 3

The NNS Software Center of Excellence (SwCoE) has been successfully appraised at Level 3 of the CMMI Institute's Capability Maturity Model Integration (CMMI), opening up many growth opportunities for the group.

By achieving CMMI Level 3, the SwCoE, which is part of Department E44, can pursue growth opportunities in software development for the Department of Defense and other government agencies that require the rating.

CMMI is a process improvement approach that provides organizations with essential elements for processes that improve their performances. A Level 3 appraisal indicates the SwCoE's processes are well-characterized, understood, and are described in standards, procedures, tool, and methods.

According to the CMMI Institute, the benefits of using its model include improved customer satisfaction, increased quality, and more on-time deliveries.

To ready the organization, the SwCoE developed processes, templates and work instructions now in use by the organization. The effort spanned 18 months, which is significantly lower than the industry average of 26 months.

The Level 3 rating places NNS among other industry leading defense contractors, such as Boeing, BAE, Raytheon, Lockheed Martin, General Dynamics, and Northrop Grumman, that are known for their software development capabilities.

Congratulations to E44's SwCoE:

Upcoming events:

- July 29: Bldg. 520 (O19 conference room) "History and Future of AR"
- August 12: Bldg. 901 (CR 113) "AR Using Heads Up Displays"

VCS Safety Task Team Drives Superior Safety Results

The Reactor Plant Module team, led by Construction Supervisor Tim Madden (X82), has won the award on five occasions, more than any other team. Madden says the key to safety and success is teamwork. "We are like a family," he said. "We look out for each other."

Another way the program practices safety is through a Safety Status board. The board includes comments and conditions about projects to help employees work safely.

VCS Safety Task Team Leader Dennis Miller (X18) said, "Our goal is to enlighten, engage and educate employees. Having people who want to be part of this initiative creates a different environment of safety."
