HII to Acquire Camber Corporation and Establish New Technical Solutions Segment

Huntington Ingalls Industries announced last week that it has entered into a definitive agreement to acquire Camber Corporation, a government services company headquartered in Huntsville, Alabama. The planned acquisition has been approved by the HII Board of Directors and is expected to close in late 2016, subject to certain regulatory approvals and customary closing conditions.

Camber is a $364 million revenue generating, pure-play provider of sophisticated mission-based and information technology solutions.

“This acquisition is consistent with our Path to 2020 strategy to optimize and expand our services portfolio while continuing to invest in our shipbuilding business and returning substantially all free cash flow to shareholders,” said Mike Petters, HII’s president and CEO. “Camber has an impressive and complementary array of people, capabilities and relationships that make it a great fit for us, and we are excited to welcome Camber’s 1,700 employees to the HII family.”

HII will acquire Camber for $380 million, which includes approximately $25 million of tax benefits, subject to customary closing adjustments.

HII to Recognize Veterans

On Friday, employees are encouraged to check out The Virginian Pilot and The Daily Press for a special Veterans Day salute from Huntington Ingalls Industries.

Shipbuilder, War Hero and Medal of Honor Recipient, Subject of film Hacksaw Ridge

The main character in Hacksaw Ridge, Desmond Doss, was raised as a Seventh-day Adventist. After stopping a violent outburst between his parents, he vowed never to touch a weapon and held himself to that standard, even in the midst of war. He worked for 10 months as a joiner during construction of SS America at Newport News Shipbuilding in 1941 and could have received a deferment because his job was essential to the war effort. Doss turned that offer down to serve as an Army medic during World War II. Doss saved the lives of 75 men during the Battle of Okinawa, and went on to become the first conscientious objector to receive the Medal of Honor.

Learn more about his incredible story in a special piece from The Virginian Pilot. Hacksaw Ridge is now in theaters.

HII Announces Plan to Establish Office in Australia and Hires Vice President of Business Development

Jeff McCray is vice president, business development, at Huntington Ingalls Industries. He leads HII's office in Canberra, Australia.

Huntington Ingalls Industries announced last week that it will open an office in Canberra, Australia, and has hired Jeff McCray as vice president, business development, HII Australia. He will be responsible for developing new business opportunities for HII to support the Royal Australian Navy and the U.S. Navy in the South Pacific.

“Establishing a permanent presence in Australia demonstrates HII’s commitment to supporting Australia and the U.S. military forces in the Pacific,” said HII President and CEO Mike Petters. “It also facilitates our ability to conduct real-time, frequent engagement with the Royal Australian Navy and the U.S. Navy located in this critical region of the globe.”

McCray will report to Mike Smith, HII’s executive vice president, strategy and development. Visit <http://newsroom.huntingtoningalls.com/> to read the entire release.

Tuesday, November 8 is election day. One of the most important civic duties we have as American citizens is the right to vote. Exercising this right is something that shouldn't be taken for granted. No matter what candidate you decide to support, you have the right to let your voice be heard. Participation in the political process affects our communities and nation today and in the future. All employees are encouraged to vote.

AROUND THE YARD

Last Few Weeks to Receive your FREE Health Screening and Flu Shots

All Newport News Shipbuilding employees are eligible to receive a FREE flu shot and health screening as part of this year's "Take an Hour for Wellness" (TAH) program. TAH, part of HII's "BeWell for Life" wellness programs, will run through the end of November.

The health screening will measure blood pressure and body composition and also includes a finger stick to test total cholesterol, high-density-lipoprotein-cholesterol and glucose. All results are 100 percent confidential and are only shared with the employee following the screening. As an added benefit, employees will receive a detailed report, which will be mailed directly to their home after the health screening.

Participate in the health screenings and receive a free, exclusive USS John F. Kennedy (CVN 79) ball cap! You must receive the full health screening to be eligible for these hats.

Employees who are planning to receive a health screening can decrease their wait time by scheduling an appointment in advance via the TAH online scheduling system. Employees who opt to only get a flu shot do not need an appointment. Visit www.huntingtoningalls.com/tah to schedule an appointment or for additional information. Email interactivehealth@hii-nns.com for questions.

NNS Hiring Event Planned for Production Planners and Schedulers

Newport News Shipbuilding's Integrated Planning and Production Control Division is actively hiring for numerous entry-level and experienced production planner and scheduler positions.
