

I am not

EFFEMINATE.

About Face

Rethink what you think.

“Some people think gay men are super feminine people who like to go shopping, but the majority of us are just regular people who do regular things, who can hold our own on the waterfront, with our tools or in an office. I’m comfortable with my sexuality, and I try to be respectful to everyone else as long as they’re respectful back.”

Paul England

Inclusion +
Diversity

Newport News Shipbuilding
A Division of Huntington Ingalls Industries