School Tools Success

Newport News Shipbuilding's 2017 School Tools Drive collected more than 22,900 supplies for local elementary, middle and high school students. That is 2,400 more items than last year's drive.

Shipbuilders donated school supplies such as pencils, pens, paper, notebooks and backpacks through box collections and online giving. The supplies are being distributed to students in need via departments of social services in Newport News, Hampton and York/Poquoson; Boys and Girls Clubs in Newport News; and ForKids Inc. in Norfolk.

"Once again, shipbuilders have created an overwhelming success with their participation in the School Tools Drive," said Community Relations Representative Judy Fundak (K18). "Exceeding this year's goal by an impressive margin escalates the difference shipbuilders will make in the successes of area children throughout the school year. This gives credence to our slogan 'Shipbuilders... sharing and caring.'"

Shipbuilders Earn Safety Awards

Four shipbuilders from Newport News Shipbuilding are among this year's recipients of the Voluntary Protection Programs Participants' Association (VPPPA) Safety and Health Achievement Award, which recognizes employees who take the initiative to learn and apply safety and health best practices.

Paul Lux (O46), Marcus Hills (X42), Maggie Yarborough (O53) and Dwayne Carter (O26) were honored last week at the VPPPA's national symposium in New Orleans.

"These employees, from different trades and areas of the company, have dedicated a significant amount of personal effort and demonstrated strong commitment to safety and health. It's great that their accomplishments are recognized both by NNS and by other companies across the nation with superior safety programs," said Dru Branche, director of Environmental Health and Safety. "Having so many winners for this prestigious award certainly underscores how NNS shipbuilders make our safety program remarkable."

NNS Awarded $2.8 Billion Contract for CVN 73 RCOH

Newport News Shipbuilding has received a $2.8 billion contract to execute the refueling and complex overhaul (RCOH) of USS George Washington (CVN 73).

"We've spent the better part of three years planning and preparing for this availability," said Chris Miner, vice president of In-Service Aircraft Carrier Programs. "We are leveraging lessons learned from the USS Abraham Lincoln RCOH, implementing digital tools to increase efficiency, and working with our Navy partners, our suppliers and numerous contractors to recapitalize this ship and deliver her back to the Navy for another 25 years of service."

The RCOH represents 35 percent of all maintenance and modernization in an aircraft carrier's 50-year service life. USS George Washington's RCOH will include the refueling of the ship's reactors, as well as extensive modernization work to more than 2,300 compartments, 600 tanks and hundreds of systems. In addition, major upgrades will be made to the flight deck, catapults, combat systems and the island. Work will begin immediately and continue through August 2021.

Career Pathways Honors Volunteers

The company's Career Pathways program recently recognized more than 250 shipbuilders for their volunteer work with students across Hampton Roads during the 2016-2017 school year. Shipbuilders were honored during the program's annual Volunteer Recognition Ceremony and School Year Kick-off on Tuesday, Aug. 29.

"Learning from and being mentored by people working in the shipbuilding industry prepares students for success in school, especially in vital science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) classes," said Career Pathways Representative Pierrette Swan (K18). "These programs also introduce students to the wide range of career opportunities that exist – here at the shipyard and around the world. We couldn't do this without our dedicated volunteers, and we're looking forward to another great school year."

Lewis Fisher (E25) was among the shipbuilders honored. He was the program's top volunteer last school year, logging more than 309 volunteer hours. "I volunteer with Career Pathways because it allows me the opportunity to find myself, while losing myself, in helping others," Fisher said. "Sometimes I forget that I am volunteering to help change someone else's life, because it has helped change my life in so many ways."

Career Pathways reaches more than 25,000 students each year through various initiatives, including the Taking Action to Overcome Obstacles (TATOO) Mentoring Program, Girls with Engineering Minds in Shipbuilding (GEMS), FIRST Robotics, egg drop competitions, job shadowing, career fairs and talks, and mock interviews.

Fisher and other top volunteers and initiative leaders received gifts, certificates of appreciation and Career Pathways coins during last week's ceremony.

TATOO Mentoring Program Lead Cynthia Fox (E72) said she volunteers to make a difference in the lives of young people. "This program not only gives me an opportunity to tutor students in math, but to mentor them on possible career choices, life choices and to show them that there is someone who cares about their future," she said.

Diondra Whindleton (T51) was a GEMS mentor last school year. "It is so important for me to volunteer because these kids look to me as a role model, and that only makes me want to work harder so they know that they can do whatever they put their minds to," she said.

Shipbuilders interested in volunteering with Career Pathways should contact Swan at 688-2201 or via email.

HII Family Health Center to Host Open House Sept. 30

Eligible United Steelworkers and their dependents enrolled in the Anthem CA PPO medical plan now have access to the HII Family Health Center. Operated by QuadMed, a third-party vendor, the health center offers free annual physicals, preventative screenings and wellness coaching, as well as acute visits and an array of additional services for just $15 per visit.

Attend an open house at the HII Family Health Center from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 30, to take a tour of the facility and see everything it has to offer. The event is open to all Newport News Shipbuilding employees and their families. In addition to tours of the facility, there will be food, family activities, music and drawings for a variety of giveaways including gift cards, FitBits and a Yeti Cooler.

For questions, contact Bryan Moore (O29) at 688-4607. Additionally, volunteers are needed to assist with the event. Employees interested in volunteering should contact Lauren Shuck (O29) at 380-4622 or via email.

Shipbuilders Steering the Way

Scott Morris (X42), Tom Lanford (X91) and Kenny Lupton (X91) were recognized with Level One On-the-Spot Ethics Awards for providing medical assistance when a three-inch knife punctured a fellow shipbuilder's leg while working on a job. Morris, Lanford and Lupton made and applied a tourniquet to control the bleeding until EMTs arrived.

Trade Director Joe Sabol met with the three shipbuilders in August to thank them for their actions and present them with awards.

"The safety of our shipbuilders is our number one priority, so it is always upsetting when someone is injured on the job," said Sabol. "Tom, Kenny and Scott are truly deserving of this honor for the way they quickly stepped in to keep a bad situation from becoming worse."

Mike Butler, program director of John F. Kennedy (CVN 79) Carrier Construction, also presented Morris, Lanford and Lupton with CVN 79 letters and ship's coins.

A Stress-Free Commute

A rush hour traffic jam is never a welcome sight, but these days Sunny Harvat (O51) doesn't really mind – that's because she's not behind the wheel.

Harvat and more than 900 other Newport News Shipbuilding employees currently hold Hampton Roads Transit (HRT) 365 GoPasses provided by NNS. The passes – offered to shipbuilders for free – can be used to ride any HRT bus, as well as the Tide Light Rail in downtown Norfolk and the Elizabeth River Ferry.

GoPasses are issued on an annual basis and must be used at least 10 times during each month to remain active. Harvat uses her pass to travel on HRT buses between her home in the Hidenwood area of Newport News and the shipyard. If there are no delays, the trip takes about 20 minutes.

"I take a book with me, so it doesn't matter if the traffic is bad and it takes longer to get home," she said. "The ride helps me make the transition from work to home because I have time to just relax and read – it's nice."

Although she enjoys the opportunity to relax on the bus, avoiding her commute wasn't Harvat's original motivation for using the GoPass. The parking situation at NNS drove Harvat to give HRT a try.

"It's aggravating driving around and waiting for a spot. Most of the time if I had to drive and couldn't find a spot, I'd go straight to privately owned paid parking lots. But that can be expensive," she said.

Now that Harvat mainly uses HRT for her commute to work, she doesn't put as many miles on her car and she has experienced a savings on her auto insurance.

Ann Willis (O69), whose office oversees the program at NNS, said shipbuilders have a host of reasons for using GoPasses. Some want to avoid the hassle of parking and others enjoy the opportunity to relax and save money.

"The employees are very appreciative," she said. "I believe it's one of the best initiatives the company has ever offered. It touches everyone. It doesn't matter if you're salaried or hourly, everyone is eligible."

NNS-provided GoPasses are still available for the fiscal year ending on June 30, 2018.

For more information, contact Anthony Johns (O69) at 688-5521 or Erica Wagner (O69) at 380-2628.

NNS Closes Out Ethics and Compliance Awareness Month

Newport News Shipbuilding observed Ethics and Compliance Awareness Month in August. This year's theme was "Always Do the Right Thing."

The purpose of the month was to refocus shipbuilders on the company values of integrity, safety, engagement, responsibility and performance; communicate ethical standards; and keep the ethics and compliance message fresh in the minds of employees.

To close out the month, Ethics and Business Conduct representatives handed out giveaways to shipbuilders as they entered and exited the gates on Aug. 31.

A poster contest was also held during Ethics and Compliance Awareness Month. The winners will be announced in an upcoming edition of Currents.

Shipbuilders Earn Safety Awards

Read below to see what the NNS VPP recipients had to say about their awards and the importance of health and safety in the workplace:

Yarborough: "I want to make safety cool. If everyone has a positive attitude toward safety, there will likely never be an accident here. That's my main goal, and it's a major undertaking."

Carter: "It's good that we could all win this award together. It was very exciting and humbling. I'm thankful for everyone who saw something in me and helped me along the way, including Tim Watkins, Ron Whiteman (X11), Bob Conway (O63), Rusty Johnson (X10) and Mitchell Land (X10)."

Lux: "This award was a pleasant surprise. Helping others is what we should all be doing – being an advocate for safety is a way I have found to do that."

Hills: "Safety is like a natural instinct to me. It's something I automatically look for when I'm on a job. It's important because you don't want to send your colleague home with a missing hand or a missing finger. That person's family wants to see them whole when they get home. It's important to me because I have a daughter and a son."

North Yard Construction Update

Starting Wednesday, Sept. 6, the Joint Manufacturing Assembly Facility (JMAF) North Yard excavation project will transition into Phase Six. As a result, the reserved spaces outside the gate by the Bldg. 1744 parking area will be affected. These reserved spots will be relocated to the area behind the bus and shuttle parking (see the map). Signage will be posted designating the numbered spaced for the relocated reserved spots.

For questions, contact Paul King (O41) at 380-4605

HII Donates to Hurricane Harvey Relief Effort

Huntington Ingalls Industries announced on Aug. 29 that it is donating $50,000 to the American Red Cross in support of its efforts to help in the recovery from Hurricane Harvey.

"We have 650 employees in Texas, and we want to help ensure they, and the hundreds of thousands of people affected by Hurricane Harvey, get the support they need in the storm's aftermath," said Mike Petters, HII's president and CEO. "HII is proud to join other companies and thousands of private citizens in lending support to the relief effort."

HII has also activated its American Red Cross "microsite" to facilitate employee donations directly to the relief fund. The microsite can be found here: www.redcross.org/donate/cm/huntingtoningalls-emp.

Employees who are interested in offering "hands on" support of the Hurricane Harvey relief effort are encouraged to contact their local chapter of the American Red Cross or register using its online volunteer interest form: www.redcross.org/volunteer-interest-form.

NNS Distributing New Employee Badges

Security and Emergency Management is currently issuing new identification badges to all Newport News Shipbuilding employees, contractors and visitors. The new badges are more secure and feature a new design.

Department security representatives are coordinating the distribution of new employee badges and the collection of existing badges. Updated employee photos are not required. The Access Center/Pass Office will replace contractor and visitor badges as they expire during the next 12 months.

The new badges cannot be punched with a hole for a badge clip. Therefore, badges are being distributed with hard plastic cases that protect against damage and can be connected to badge clips or lanyards.

New fees go into effect Oct. 1 for shipbuilders and others who need to replace NNS badges that have been lost or forgotten. The first replacement will cost $10. A second replacement badge will cost $15, and a third will cost $20. A fourth replacement badge will cost $25 and requires approval from the director of security and either Human Resources, Labor Relations or the appropriate sponsor for a non-employee.

For more information about the new badges, see a list of frequently asked questions on MyNNS or contact Daryl Hagwood (O15) at 688-2464.
