

About Face

Rethink what you think.

Watch the video “I am not too short,” featuring Jered “Tea Cup” Wright.

Questions for Discussion on the Video and Inclusion and Diversity:

1. What are some limitations that you put on someone who is shorter in stature? Why?

2. Can you think of a coworker who can do something you can't because of his/her physical traits? What value does that bring to the team?

3. What is your initial reaction when you encounter someone who is very short? How can you work to change this perspective?

4. What is the greatest takeaway from “Tea Cup’s” story?

5. Why is it important to discuss our differences?

“When you’re little and you’ve been picked on, you’ve got a choice. Cry about it, or get over it. Being short has been a blessing. I feel like I was made to work at the shipyard. Being able to get in a lot of tight spaces as a welder has helped my career. It’s been a challenge, and I enjoy the challenge.”

Jered “Tea Cup” Wright

Inclusion + Diversity