Commuting Options Available to Shipbuilders

HRT Passes to be Distributed

Newport News Shipbuilding is once again offering employees Hampton Roads Transit (HRT) GoPass365 boarding passes at no cost. The passes can be used on all HRT services, including Tide light rail, bus, ferry, VB Wave and the MAX from July 1 until June 30, 2019.

“This is an amazing opportunity for employees to commute to and from work free of charge and without stress,” said Ann Willis (O69), whose office manages distribution of the passes.

Nuclear Quality Inspector William Hromada (O39) has used an NNS-provided GoPass365 for the past three years for his daily commute to the shipyard. “It’s just a blessing to have it,” he said. “I come from Virginia Beach, so it’s a long haul. When you drive, you have to deal with traffic, paying for gas, wear and tear on your vehicle and parking.”

With seats that recline, Wi-Fi and someone else navigating rush hour tunnel traffic, the bus is a more relaxing option, Hromada said. “I sleep in the morning on the way in, and in the afternoon I’ll read, talk or listen to headphones.”

New Rideshare Program Available

Newport News Shipbuilding has partnered with Enterprise to rollout a new rideshare program to employees – that comes with a rental vehicle and guaranteed parking space.

“This program is one of the many ongoing company initiatives to improve and alleviate parking challenges at the shipyard,” said Steve White, Capacity and Capital Planning manager. “Our hope is that employees will take advantage of this opportunity, so they won’t have to worry about getting to work significantly earlier than their shift start or worry about finding a parking space.”

Through the program, which is exclusively managed by Enterprise, four to 15 employees form a vanpool, meet at a central location and then commute to and from work in a newer model SUV or passenger van. Employees can form their own rideshare or Enterprise can assist with matching employees to a group. Members of the rideshare split driving responsibilities and a monthly fee, which covers maintenance and insurance. Additional fees that vary based on where the rideshare is commuting from include fuel and tolls, which is also split by the riders.

Celebrating Flag Day

Thursday, June 14, is Flag Day. The holiday commemorates the adoption of the flag of the United States on June 14, 1777. Shipbuilders are encouraged to wear red, white or blue shirts Thursday in honor of Flag Day. Watch a Flag Day video on MyNNS.

Shipbuilders Attend "Fitter of the Future" Tool Show

In an effort to modernize shipfitting practices at Newport News Shipbuilding, the Shipfitter Department (X11) teamed up with Fit Up Gear (FUG) and Maglogix Magnets to present the Fitter of the Future tool show in May. The event was held at the Steel Production Facility (SPF) and the Modular Outfitting Facility (MOF).

Vendors were on hand to show about 40 fitting aids that could cut costs, save time and provide more ergonomically friendly options for those working on the deckplate. Although some of the tools have already been implemented throughout NNS, employee feedback led to vendor modifications. Both FUG and Maglogix have been responsive to feedback about actual deckplate applications.

The new tools have already led to success in some areas, and shipbuilders eagerly await the arrival of additional tools.

X10 Foreman Phillip Gillispie and his team have used several of these tools since their arrival in production areas. "We continue to use the tools for applications we didn't originally think of, and even with our success, we still haven't used the tools to their maximum capacity," he said.

Shipbuilders can find more information about available tools on MyNNS.

LGBT Pride Month: Jasmine Hairston

June is LGBT Pride Month. The theme for this year's Inclusion and Diversity (I&D) monthly recognition campaign is "Unite Our Voices by Speaking Together." As part of the campaign, four employees will be featured during each recognition month – two from within the featured demographic and two outside of it. Employees will share personal stories, insight and perspectives on what the month means to them. Features will be published in Currents, the NNS to Go app, MyNNS and HII social media channels.

Jasmine Hairston is a longtime ally of the LGBT community.

"Growing up, I had many lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender friends," said Hairston. "Through our friendship, I was able to witness the challenges they faced and had to overcome. As a way to be supportive, I joined the LGBT club at my high school. I was welcomed into the organization and in addition to being able to support my friends, I was also able to begin many new friendships."

As an ally, Hairston says she often finds herself in discussions about the LGBT community, especially during Pride Month. "With different genders and sexualities, the community can be confusing and sometimes intimidating for people who are not familiar or don't have a direct connection to LGBT. I show my support by helping people outside the community better understand it in hopes that they too will be supportive and respectful – even if they don't agree."

Today, Hairston is an electrician working on the refueling and complex overhaul of USS George Washington (CVN 73). She has only been a shipbuilder for a couple months, but says she is proud to work for a company that understands the importance of inclusion and diversity.

"It's important to recognize Pride Month and other recognition months throughout the year, because it will help bring more awareness and diversity to the company," she said. "Through inclusion, new ideas or ways of looking or thinking about something can be shared. Everyone has grown up in a different environment, which influences their way of thinking. I think it's important to be respectful of all people. At the end of the day we all go to work, pay bills, take care of our families and live life to the fullest."

New Rideshare Program Available to Shipbuilders

Preferred parking in group rider lots will be designated for these vehicles. NNS will work closely with Enterprise to ensure that there are enough “Rideshare by Enterprise” designated spaces in these lots to accommodate the number of vehicles participating in the program.

“In addition to having a guaranteed parking space, employees who elect to participate in the program are eligible for the commuter benefit that lets you use pre-tax dollars for commuting between your home and work,” said Dan Bieker (X44), NNS Enterprise Rideshare liaison. “Additional information is available on UPoint, the HII benefits website.”

To promote the program, Enterprise representatives were on-site at the CVN Carrier Café last week. Representatives and sample vehicles will be on-site again from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at different locations throughout the month – the next stops include “The Rock” on June 14 and Modular Outfitting Facility (MOF) on June 19.

More information about the program is available via the Enterprise Rideshare flier or at www.EnterpriseRideshare.com.

Information specific to NNS employees will be presented during an interest meeting, which will be held in Bldg. 520-6 (James River Room) at 4 p.m. on June 27. All employees are invited to attend. Enterprise representatives will be in attendance to explain additional details about the program, answer questions and assist employees with signing up. Employees planning to attend should RSVP to ParkingSolutions@hii-nns.com.

NNS Store to Open in July

On July 16, Newport News Shipbuilding will launch NNS Spear & Gear, a new online store featuring a wide variety of company-logoed apparel, products and merchandise. All items featured in the store will be available for purchase 24-7 and will ship for free.

“By opening this store, we hope to give employees convenient and easy access to NNS- and HII-branded products so that they can showcase the pride they have for the company,” said Kimberly Zayakosky, public relations and protocol manager. “Hundreds of products will be available, including specific apparel lines for men and women. Options to personalize merchandise and make items unique to individuals, departments and divisions will also be available. Retirees and family members will also be able to purchase items as the store is open to the public.”

In addition to the online store, pop-up sales will be held several times a year in various locations throughout the yard and during special events. “These events will give shipbuilders the opportunity to ask questions, browse through product selections and make purchases onsite,” said Laurel Overby, public relations representative.

To celebrate the store’s grand opening in July, the first pop-up event is scheduled for July 18 at “The Rock” and will be open during all shifts. Additional information about the pop-up and NNS Spear & Gear will be communicated via company communication channels in the coming weeks, including opportunities for employees to receive giveaways leading up to the store’s opening.

Employees who would like to receive a notification when NNS Spear & Gear officially opens should visit www.nnsspearandgear.com to sign up.

Note: NNS Spear & Gear is not affiliated with The Company Store located at The Apprentice School. The Company Store will continue to sell NNS, Huntington Ingalls Industries and Apprentice School branded items. Once NNS Spear & Gear opens, items purchased online cannot be returned or exchanged in person at The Company Store.

Shipbuilders from the In-Service Aircraft Carrier Program participate in an "escape the ship" challenge. Photo by John Whalen

Escaping the Ship

A rogue scientist, venomous bugs and a frantic search for an antidote with 73 lives at stake. It wasn't a new thriller in theaters, but an "escape the ship" challenge for Newport News Shipbuilding's In-Service Aircraft Carrier (ISCVN) Program leaders.

The program's construction supervisors and general foremen were divided into teams and invited to attend one of 12 afternoon sessions – modeled after popular escape room challenges – at NNS in April and May. During the challenge, shipbuilders worked together to decipher clues, solve puzzles and save the hypothetical lives.

So how did this activity relate to shipbuilding? There were several connections, according to ISCVN performance coaches Lisa Norskog, Brian Dvorak and Gary "Manny" Mansell. "We wanted to find a creative way to bring together our construction and production teams and demonstrate the one-team principle," Norskog said.

The challenge highlighted other leadership and team principles that come into play at the shipyard – including the importance of effective communication and recognizing and leveraging shipbuilders' strengths. "Sometimes the answer is right in front of you. You just have to look at it in a different way. You and I might have different strengths, and if we just shift the information between us, we can come up with a great solution," she said.

Mansell said the groups of general foremen and construction supervisors were put together purposefully and included shipbuilders who work together on a regular basis. "This was production and construction, so it was just another opportunity to work off the deckplate and team build in the same manner that they work side by side when they're out on the deckplate," he said.

Construction Supervisor Sean Dolan said he had previously participated in escape room challenges with his family before his session. "I was looking forward to it because they're fun. It was a nice break from shipbuilding to interact with people you work with and typically wouldn't see away from work," he said.

Dolan saw a direct connection between the activity and his everyday work. "There are often times when you can't solve a problem without asking questions and relying on other people," he said. "We didn't solve that puzzle and get out of the room individually, everybody contributed. That's pretty much how it works here at the shipyard. You can't be afraid to ask questions."

The "escape the ship" challenge is available for other teams to use. For details, contact Gary "Manny" Mansell or Brian Dvorak via email.

Hromada is among the hundreds of shipbuilders who currently use a GoPass365. This year, the company is purchasing additional passes, bringing the total number available to employees to 1,500. The passes are not transferrable and must be used at least 10 times per month to remain active.

If the number of employees requesting passes exceeds 1,500, a lottery system will be used to determine which employees will receive passes. Employees who met NNS-provided GoPass365 requirements from the previous year will automatically receive another pass for the following year. New passes will be issued before the current pass expires.

Shipbuilders who would like to obtain a GoPass365 should fill out the interest form in today's edition of Currents. For more information, contact Anthony Johns (O69) at 688-5521 or Erica Wagner (O69) at 380-2628. For information about HRT bus routes, visit gohrt.com.

The Shape of Freedom Posters Available

The Shape of Freedom poster is now available in the lobby of VASCIC and Bldg. 520.

AROUND THE YARD

Verify Your Dependents By Friday

Employees who need to verify their dependents for benefits coverage received notices in the mail. Documentation should be submitted by Friday, June 15. If the required documentation is not provided, employees' dependent(s) will no longer be covered by Huntington Ingalls Industries benefits effective July 1.

For more information regarding dependent verification, log into UPoint or call the Huntington Ingalls Benefits Center at 1-877-216-3222.

HII Family Health Center Meet and Greet Tuesday

Shipbuilders are invited to stop by the HII Family Health Center from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 12, to meet the new doctor and nurse practitioner on staff. Eligible employees and their families can visit with the staff, learn about the health center's services and enter a drawing to win a YETI cooler.

Service Desk Launches "Call Back" Feature

The IT Service Desk has launched a "call back" feature that allows employees to hold their place in the queue without waiting on the phone. Here's how it works:

1. Contact the IT Service Desk at 688-HELP.
2. If the caller is first in line, they will be directed to a representative immediately. Otherwise, callers will be notified of their position in the queue.
3. Callers who decide to use the new "call back" option should follow the phone prompts. Callers will be prompted to enter the phone number at which the Service Desk can return their call.
4. Once the caller is next in the queue, a representative will call to begin the resolution process.

Shipbuilders Support Relay For Life

Shipbuilders recently participated in the Newport News-York-Poquoson Relay For Life event. The 92 Newport News Shipbuilding participants formed eight teams and raised more than $11,000 for the American Cancer Society.

Summer Intern Mallory Keough (X71) attended the event. "It is important that the younger generation be involved. We want to make a difference," she said.

Lisa Forlow (K22) also participated. "I came out to support everyone and to honor loved ones who have passed," she said.

Ethics and Business Conduct Reps Attend Workshop

Huntington Ingalls Industries' 60 Ethics and Business Conduct representatives from Newport News Shipbuilding, Ingalls Shipbuilding and Technical Solutions attended an Ethics and Business Conduct Workshop in April.

Kenny Rogers, HII's director of Compliance and Ethics, and Evelyn Gregory, manager of Compliance and Ethics at NNS, co-chaired the workshop.

HII President and CEO Mike Petters shared remarks via video about the importance of ethics and compliance for all employees. The workshop also included a panel of NNS foremen that took questions and provided feedback about supporting and cascading ethics and compliance information among deckplate construction teams.

Attendees saw presentations from across HII's divisions representing Human Resources, Security, Communications, Legal, and Ethics and Compliance. The workshop also included best practice overviews by representatives from each division.

The workshop provided relevant information and perspectives from a variety of leaders. In addition, it offered a special venue for representatives to connect face-to-face to share thoughts, practices and ideas for future ethics and compliance-related activities and learning.
