

Julia Jones

Vice President
Manufacturing

Julia Jones is vice president of Manufacturing at Newport News Shipbuilding, a division of HII, located in Newport News, Virginia. She is responsible for the shipyard's manufacturing of structural and component fabrication operations, including HII Mechanical shops.

Jones began her shipbuilding career in 1998 as a Senior Operations Coordinator. Since then, she has held numerous positions of increasing responsibility in operations, production control, nuclear support and corporate strategic planning. She served as the trade's director for Surface Preparation and Treatment and as director of Operations Integration where she led transformation efforts to improve overall efficiency and effectiveness within the division.

Jones earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from Christopher Newport University and a master's in business administration from Averett University. She is currently serving on the board of directors for the Virginia Manufacturers Association.

About Newport News Shipbuilding:

Newport News Shipbuilding (NNS), a division of HII, is the nation's sole designer, builder and refueler of nuclear-powered aircraft carriers and one of only two shipyards capable of designing and building nuclear-powered submarines. NNS also provides fleet services for naval ships. Headquartered in Newport News, Virginia, the shipyard's vast facilities span more than 550 acres along two miles of waterfront on the historic James River. It is the largest industrial employer in Virginia, employing more than 25,000 people, many of whom are third and fourth generation shipbuilders. For more information, please visit www.hii.com.