Well, my wife and I, we talked about it.

At my age, soon to be 67 next month, we studied science, we did our research, and it was a no-brainer for me because the science backed it up and I feel comfortable and safe.

Literally, I'm glad I took the shot because now I'm an example. And I can tell people, "Look at me. I've had both shots, no adverse reaction."

And I would recommend that others do the same. Help spread the word and get to the naysayers because we all really need this shot to prevent spreading the virus. And all of us need to do our part.
