Huntington Ingalls Industries is America's largest military shipbuilding company and a provider of professional services to partners in government and industry. For more than a century, HII's Newport News and Ingalls shipbuilding divisions in Virginia and Mississippi have built more ships in more ship classes than any other U.S. naval shipbuilder. HII's Technical Solutions division supports national security missions around the globe with unmanned systems, defense and federal solutions, and nuclear and environmental services. Headquartered in Newport News, Virginia, HII employs more than 42,000 people operating both domestically and internationally.

In this year's Report to the Community, we are celebrating HII's 10-year anniversary by taking a look at the volunteer efforts of HII's employees over the past decade. Take this opportunity to reminisce on photos of the past 10 years and reflect on the relationships we have built with our community partners during that time.

OUR CHARITABLE INVESTMENTS

In 2020, HII contributed over $5.7 million in charitable giving to the communities in which we operate, with a particular emphasis on educational programs and health and human services, including the United Way. The corporation also gave significantly to programs for children, civic/community support, our veterans and military, and the arts.

● United Way	$2,078,658
● Education Programs	$1,126,500
● Health & Human Services Programs	$797,750
● Youth Programs	$660,850
● Veterans/Military Support Programs	$420,713
● Community Events	$394,160
● Civic/Community Support	$149,975
● Arts Programs	$88,000

MESSAGE TO OUR COMMUNITIES

When I look back at 2020, I will remember it not only as a year of extraordinary challenges, but one that stands out for the ways in which HII's employees overcame obstacles to selflessly support their communities through countless volunteer efforts.

This year, HII celebrated its 10-year anniversary on March 31. And from day one, when we stood up HII in 2011, we committed to the communities where we work and live by donating our time and talents to support our neighbors. Looking ahead, there is still so much to do, especially as the nation works through and recovers from the COVID-19 crisis.

In 2020, HII employees demonstrated that they were ready to serve, regardless of the circumstances. When COVID-19 created roadblocks to traditional volunteer events, our employees leveraged the spirit of transformation, so valuable to our business, and applied it to support the nonprofit organizations that provide critical services to our local communities.

The ninth annual Ingalls 5K on the Causeway, an event sponsored by Ingalls Shipbuilding, was switched to a virtual event this year so registration fees could continue to support the Special Olympics. Newport News Shipbuilding sponsored a drive-thru event in place of its traditional Relay for Life walk that raised funds to support the American Cancer Society. And N3B, which is a part of the Technical Solutions division, established a nonprofit emergency response fund under the Los Alamos Community Foundation in New Mexico to assist small nonprofits in their fight against the COVID-19 crisis. These are just a few examples, and there are so many more.

HII and its divisions also coordinated with local hospitals, shelters and other front-line workers to ensure they had personal protective equipment and other medical supplies needed to keep themselves safe from COVID-19. For example, Ingalls Shipbuilding donated 400 temperature scanners to 125 day care centers, local nonprofits and faith-based organizations to assist them in their reopening efforts. Newport News Shipbuilding also provided face shields, N95 masks and other PPE to local healthcare providers.

Last year, HII contributed more than $5.7 million in charitable giving to the communities where the company operates. And HII kept up long-standing relationships with the United Way, American Red Cross and American Heart Association, among others.

I could not be more proud of the way HII's employees rose to the occasion in 2020 to ensure the relationships we built over the past decade with these invaluable nonprofit organizations, and the assistance we provide them, remained strong, despite the challenges brought on by COVID-19.

It's gratifying to work with people who, over the past decade, have remained willing to go above and beyond for their communities. In this Report to the Community, you will see both photos from previous years' volunteer efforts as well as those that took place in 2020. Please join me in offering these volunteers a well-deserved "thank you" for their efforts.

EDUCATION

At HII, we believe education is the foundation of our nation's security. We proudly support a variety of early education initiatives; STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) projects at elementary, middle and high schools; and two- and four-year college programs that support our workforce development needs. We also offer the HII Scholarship Fund. Since its establishment in 2016, the fund has awarded 766 scholarships totaling over $2 million, including more than 221 awards for pre-K education programs.

Newport News Shipbuilding

More than 8,000 items of school supplies were donated by employees to students across Hampton Roads during the annual School Tools Drive.

Ingalls Shipbuilding

More than 200 middle and high school students and parents explored shipbuilding careers at the Maritime Training Academy during the pre-pandemic Future Shipbuilder Discovery Day event.

Technical Solutions

Unmanned Systems business group maintains relationships with multiple educational institutions that offer engineering and robotics programs.

Top: Newport News Shipbuilding employee mentors and middle school students who participate in SEEKnns' Girls with Engineering Minds in Shipbuilding program visited the Brooks Crossing Innovation Lab in March (prior to COVID-19 restrictions).

Middle: Prior to COVID-19 restrictions, teachers representing schools in Mississippi and Alabama were awarded more than $99,000 in grants from Ingalls Shipbuilding to implement STEM education initiatives in their schools.

Ingalls Shipbuilding

HII contributed nearly $2.1 million to the United Way and other health and human services organizations in 2020, and employees pledged an additional $1.4 million through company-sponsored fundraising campaigns. HII and its three divisions also have long-standing relationships with organizations such as the American Red Cross, Habitat for Humanity, Special Olympics and local food banks. Hundreds of our employees give their time, talent and money in support of many other organizations — large and small — that strengthen their communities.

Newport News Shipbuilding

N95 masks and face shields were donated to help meet immediate needs of health care systems facing critical shortages of personal protective equipment.

Ingalls Shipbuilding

The division donated 400 temperature scanners to 125 day care centers, local nonprofits and faith-based organizations during the pandemic.

Technical Solutions

Nuclear and Environmental Services business group leaders serve on the board of Fear 2 Freedom, a nonprofit organization dedicated to restoring hope and dignity to survivors of sexual assault, child abuse, domestic violence and human trafficking.

Corporate

Employees in the Washington, D.C. office donated $1,870 to the Capital Area Food Bank to help provide over 90 emergency food boxes.

Top: Technical Solutions employee Cheryl Speelman has volunteered for the Foodbank of Southeastern Virginia for more than 10 years

Middle: Newport News Shipbuilding employee Kevin Blatnik donated blood during an on-site American Red Cross blood drive in June.

Bottom/Anniversary Throwback: In 2015, Ingalls Shipbuilding employee Albert Williams works on the floor of a house being renovated by Habitat for Humanity of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

ENVIRONMENT

Hill's environmental stewardship and sustainability efforts are recognized nationally and regionally. As a company, we are committed to waste reduction and recycling and to preserving and improving air and water quality in all of the communities in which we operate. We are also pleased that many of our employees volunteer their own time and energy to preserving our greatest natural resource — our environment — for future generations.

Newport News Shipbuilding

Dozens of employees collected nearly 1,000 pounds of trash during the Great American Cleanup in September.

Ingalls Shipbuilding

The division partnered with the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources to utilize an obsolete underwater concrete structure as a deep water offshore reef for aquatic habitat.

Technical Solutions

The Pocasset, Massachusetts, facility securely shredded and recycled over 2,500 pounds of paper each quarter. This avoided nearly 1,700 pounds of carbon dioxide emissions, conserved 6 cubic yards of landfill space, preserved 20 trees, saved 2,800 kilowatt hours and kept 34,000 gallons of clean water.

Top/Anniversary Throwback: In 2014, Newport News Shipbuilding employees Montez Studwell, left, and Brian Johnston, right, participate in an Earth Day cleanup event in Newport News, Virginia.

Middle: Patrick Geary was among dozens of Newport News Shipbuilding employees who participated in the Great American Cleanup in September.

Bottom: Technical Solutions employee Gretchen Dietrich volunteers with the National Marine Life Center in Bourne, Massachusetts.

Hill has a commitment to the men and women of the Armed Forces — and their families — that extends well beyond the ships we build and maintain for the U.S. Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard. We employ more than 6,200 military veterans — nearly 15% of our workforce — as well as current members of the Reserves and National Guard, and we are also committed to filling more than 20% of new jobs with veterans. We are also proud to support a variety of USO events.

Newport News Shipbuilding

Members of Veterans Employee Resource Group collaborated with the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Cub Scouts and American Heritage Girls to place nearly 1,300 flags on veterans' gravesites at the Virginia State Veterans Cemetery in Suffolk, Virginia.

Ingalls Shipbuilding

Employees continue to build on the Heroes Are Building Our Ships recruiting program designed to provide employment opportunities for veterans.

Technical Solutions

Savannah River Nuclear Solutions employees serve on the South Carolina/Georgia Board for the Patriot Guard.

Top: Technical Solutions employee David Beier serves as the assistant state director for the Alabama chapter of Bugles Across America. In this photo, he performs "Taps" during a dedication ceremony for the Gold Star Family Memorial at the Huntsville/Madison County Veterans Memorial Park in October 2020.

HOLIDAY GIVING

Thousands of toys were donated by HII employees across the enterprise for the Marine Corps Toys for Tots campaigns, United Way, Salvation Army Angel Tree, local police and fire department campaigns, and neighborhood school holiday campaigns in underprivileged areas.

Newport News Shipbuilding

Employees provided more than 90,000 meals for area people in need, a significant increase from the nearly 70,000 meals provided during the 2019 annual holiday food drive.

Ingalls Shipbuilding

Employees adopted 100 angels during the Salvation Army's Angel Tree Drive.

Technical Solutions

The Nuclear and Environmental Services business group and N3B joint venture employees contributed $165,865 to 25 organizations. N3B teamed with the Los Alamos VFW to collect 3,500 pounds of food and $1,400 from employees, and matched dollar-for-pound the food donated.

Corporate

HII corporate employees donated 92 pounds of food and other non-perishable items to the Virginia Peninsula Food Bank.

Top/Anniversary Throwback: In 2014, SN3 (now part of Technical Solutions) employee Trace Hillman helped spread the Christmas spirit while volunteering at a homeless shelter in Colorado.

Middle: Corporate employee Robert Brauchle holds a box of nonperishable food items collected at VASCIC, in Newport News, Virginia, and donated to the Virginia Peninsula Food Bank.

Bottom: Newport News Shipbuilding's Women in Shipbuilding Enterprise (WISE) employee resource group partnered with the Newport News Court Appointed Special Advocates Program for an annual Secret Santa project to provide toys, books and clothes for dozens of children who have experienced abuse or neglect.

"Technical Solutions' commitment to community engagement remains as strong as ever and continues to grow every day — even in the midst of the unprecedented disruption to our daily lives. The men and women who work in our Unmanned Systems, Nuclear and Environmental Services and Defense and Federal Solutions business groups — as well as our functional organizations — support a wide variety of customers across the United States and around the world. Many of them also invest their time, talent and money in a diverse assortment of volunteer initiatives in the communities where they live and work. I'm especially proud of the way we have persevered during the COVID-19 pandemic — not only fulfilling our customers' missions at home and abroad, but stepping up our acts of service to those in need."

PAMELA PONTON

"There's always something I can do to help somebody else," Pamela Ponton says. "That's my motto in life."

Ponton, a Technical Solutions employee, coordinates her office's support of two annual drives for Carver Elementary School in Newport News, Virginia. The 2020 "School Tools" drive was canceled because of the COVID-19 pandemic, but she and coworkers were able to support 25 students with their "Carver Angel Tree" drive in December.

Outside of work, Ponton is also active with Do Gooders of Hampton Roads and Pretty In Pink HELP Inc. She plans to retire in 2021 and will devote even more time to all of these causes and more, including the Children's Hospital of the King's Daughters.

"I want to go rock babies and give the babies attention," she said. "I had a goddaughter that was a preemie. She was there for four months of her life. While I was visiting her, I used to rock other babies. They need human touch. So that's one of the things I will be doing a whole lot more of once I retire."

"The last decade has renewed our pride and motivated our purpose, and the unique challenges that define 2020 have inspired our shipbuilders' generous spirit. I'm proud to lead women and men who model what it means to serve the communities in which they live and work. I know that as our shipbuilding team grows stronger and more agile in the years and decades to come, the impact on our communities will astound us."

"PETÉ" HARRELL III

For Jack "Peté" Harrell III, volunteering is a way of life. The 38-year health and safety analyst for Ingalls Shipbuilding said his parents raised him to volunteer. He loves people and enjoys seeing the expressions on faces of those he's able to help.

Earlier in his career, Harrell served as the Ingalls Employee Assistance Program coordinator, helping find counseling for people dealing with depression, grief or addiction. "I sat in the hospital with many families. I feel that if not for circumstances in my life, I could be the one in need. It made me grateful to help others," he said.

Harrell also gives his time in his church's music ministry, United Way and more than a dozen community agencies. He is an advocate for the American Red Cross and has coordinated hundreds of blood drives in and out of the shipyard.

SARA AMMAN

Sara Amman, a HII Corporate employee, helps administer the Holiday Giving Campaign in VASCIC each year, which ensures children and families in need have gifts during the holiday season.

During a normal year, Amman and a core team of volunteers works with the city of Newport News Health and Human Services Department to "adopt" 15 to 20 foster children. "There's always this great outpouring of support in the office," she said. "And it helps these foster children realize there are people who care about them."

This year, for health and safety purposes, the Holiday Giving Campaign needed to pivot, so Amman worked with Health and Human Services to collect funds to purchase $3,550 in gift cards that were distributed to families and will be used for children ages 3 months to 18 years old.

"2020 was an eventful year, and I am extremely proud of our shipbuilders and all they accomplished in the face of the COVID-19 pandemic. As a company, we took many measures to protect every worker in the shipyard, including temperature screenings, onsite testing and daily cleaning and sanitizing. Our shipbuilders rose to the occasion as well. Not only were they able to accomplish their vital work of building ships, but they also continued to dedicate their time, talents and resources to improving Gulf Coast communities. In addition to the many individual acts of kindness from our employees across three states, Ingalls Shipbuilding contributed to the Salvation Army of Jackson County, Salvation Army Area Command and Our Daily Bread and to various hurricane relief efforts along the Gulf Coast. We donated respirators and respirator filter pads to a local hospital and, in support of virtual learning, donated 2,000 backpacks to the Pascagoula-Gautier School District. I am truly amazed and inspired by our shipbuilders who continue to care for others and build strong communities despite the unprecedented challenges of 2020."

"What a year this has been! No one saw COVID-19 coming. Nevertheless, our employees have persevered, and their spirits have remained high. Although limited because of the impact of COVID-19, employees have pivoted and adapted to a world of virtual events. Employee resource groups have successfully navigated virtual poster contests for local schools, engagement and professional development sessions, panel discussions and much more. Employees participated in a virtual "5K on the Causeway," which raised money for Special Olympics, and a virtual Heart Walk. Employees have continued to do amazing work in the local communities such as supporting blood drives and the United Way campaign. While Zoom meetings and Facebook live presentations have dominated our lives, we have not forgotten that our community still needs us. Our employees have engaged and made meaningful contributions in the true 'let's make it happen' spirit. Volunteerism thrives even in the midst of a pandemic."

Dorothy Shaw

Director, Compliance, Ethics & Community Relations
Ingalls Shipbuilding

"We all knew 2020 was going to be a year to remember. But not for the reasons we were hoping for. The impact of COVID-19 presented some extraordinary challenges on our economy and the people of our communities. Schools having to pivot to virtual learning, small businesses shutting their doors, child care becoming scarce and medical centers overflowing with patients are only a few of those challenges. The devastation this pandemic has caused, and exposed, is not to be downplayed. The true heroes are the healthcare and essential personnel who faced this head on and sacrificed their health for the well-being of others. This includes our fellow shipbuilders who are doing what needs to be done to protect our country and strengthen our communities. We are proud to be able to promote and support our heroes."

Gary Artybridge

Manager, Community Relations
Newport News Shipbuilding

"We volunteer because we know that one person can make a world of difference. Across the world, employees in HII's Technical Solutions division consistently rise to meet the need of the local community in which they work and live. We've all experienced an unprecedented year from the COVID-19 pandemic to mass civil rights protests around the world. Through it all, our employees continued to dedicate countless hours of their time and resources. Theodore Roosevelt once said, 'This country will not be a good place for any of us to live in unless we make it a good place for all of us to live in.' I will forever be inspired by the charity and compassion of my fellow HII family members."

LEWIS FISHER

At Newport News Shipbuilding for nine years, Lewis Fisher dedicates much of his time to volunteer work inside the company with employee resource groups and in the greater community.

"I volunteer because of the hope it gives to others. When you volunteer, you do so, not for the attention or the glory, you do it because of the unimaginable opportunity and hope that you give to others," he said.

Through SEEKnns, Fisher leads the Young Men in Engineering program. He also represents the company as an engineering mentor for a FIRST Robotics team.

"I am reminded of a quote from Alan Turing, 'It is the people no one imagines anything of who do the things that no one can imagine.' Therefore, I volunteer through SEEKnns, because it gives me a chance to build future leaders. I am a servant leader, and that is why I love volunteering," he said.

Anniversary Throwback

Top Right: In 2014, Continental Maritime of San Diego (then a part of Technical Solutions) employee Brett Baker participates in the San Diego Port Tenants Association's Operation Clean Sweep.

Back Cover

Top: Technical Solutions employee Laura Moore participated in a food drive for the Ronald McDonald House Southern New Jersey.
